A romantic wedding photograph of a couple standing in a grand stone gateway. The couple, a man in a light-colored suit and a woman in a white wedding dress with a long train, are embracing and kissing. The gateway is flanked by two large, ornate stone pillars topped with decorative finials. In the background, a large, multi-story manor house with a red-tiled roof and numerous windows is visible, surrounded by lush greenery and trees. The sky is a soft, pale blue, suggesting a late afternoon or early evening setting.
